Jacques THÉBAULT
Director
MBA Wine & Spirits Business

One of the goals of this programme is to expose our students to a very global industry, with key consumption markets on three continents, emerging markets on three more, and production areas scattered all over the world. We believe our students will take full advantage of small group contacts with professors, lecturers and high-level professional speakers, both inside and outside the classroom.

The MBA Wine & Spirits Business is designed for high-potential graduates who have a passion for wine and spirits and at least 3 years' work experience. This intense programme, which has a strong strategic, commercial and management focus, gives students a sound grasp of the requirements of the global market by offering them a diversity of cultural experiences and developing their understanding of the intricacies of the global business of wine and spirits.

It is ideal for those looking to reach middle to upper managerial positions in the industry or create their own business. It offers a wide range of professional outcomes.

Ranked 2nd in France for International MBAs (*), we believe the content of the programme, together with the rich variety of high-achieving students joining this MBA from all regions of the World, makes it a truly life changing experience!

A FACULTY

THAT COMBINES ACADEMIC EXPERTISE
AND INDUSTRY KNOW-HOW

The School of Wine & Spirits Business faculty consists of both academic experts including Steve Charters, a Master of Wine and highly experienced professionals working in the industry. Their aim is to conduct top-level research activity that can be used to enrich the content of the programmes, whilst nurturing close ties with the sector and the companies operating within it.

Pr STEVE CHARTERS
PhD, Master of Wine

I have the dual role of teacher and researcher, my studies focusing on consumer behaviour and the links that exist between wine and where it is grown. I am also a member of the Institute of Masters of Wine, a global network of 380 Masters of Wine spread over thirty countries worldwide. One of my aims is to help School of Wine & Spirits Business students take full advantage of the network and expertise I have to offer.

THE MBA WINE & SPIRITS BUSINESS

HIGHLIGHTS

JACQUES THÉBAULT
Programme Director

Jacques Thébault acquired extensive experience within the Sopexa Group (communications and marketing consulting agency, notably specialised in wines and spirits). His solid managerial background in the USA, Southern Europe, Switzerland and France, led him to become the Shanghai-based director of seven agencies in Asia. His unique experience has given him an in-depth understanding of international markets: consumer behaviour, distribution channels, B2B and B2C marketing strategy and communications, and Business Unit management. In addition to programme management, his role includes enhancing ties with international professional guest speakers, and teaching courses in international marketing and leadership.

An in-depth knowledge of the specific business skills (strategy, management, marketing & commercial) required for the global wine and spirits market

DAVID GOSINE BSB'17
Canadian student
Founder at Authentic Production

Before I started my time at the School of Wines & Spirits Business, I was missing a strong network of industry professionals and I didn't feel like I had a network in the industry I wished to work in.

Today, I have that network. I am a part of that network, and have a better idea about the industry that I want to work in! When my CBC Web Series aired, I was honoured by the support that the school showed me. It was shared and supported by both faculty and classmates alike. I will always remember this. To know your school supports your achievements is a wonderful feeling.
